Dear Harry,

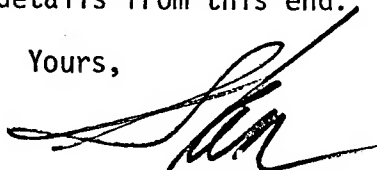

Excuse my tardy response to your letter of March 5th. Tentative overseas travel plans for June precluded an earlier reply.

While those plans are not any clearer at this date, I would welcome the opportunity to speak informally to a group of your senior executives if I can do so with an understanding that I may have to cancel in the interim.

In this event, I would be happy to reschedule for some future quarterly gathering.

Dear Stan:

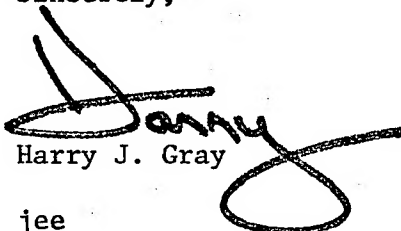

During the past year, you and I discussed the possibility of your speaking informally to a group of United Technologies' senior executives at a monthly luncheon meeting next May.

Business demands have prompted a decision to hold these meetings quarterly instead of monthly, and the date is now set for June 26, 1980 at 1:00 p.m.

I very much hope you will be able to accommodate this change in your schedule and look forward to hearing from you soon.

Best personal regards.

Sincerely,

Harry J. Gray
